Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 25 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Wet overnight. Gradually becoming milder but showery through Boxing Day.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy and wet, with persistent and locally heavy rain edging northwards. This perhaps giving way to a more showery picture towards dawn, but with cloud liable to remain extensive. Cold for many, but milder in the southwest. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
Rather cloudy with showers or longer spells of rain during the morning, some on the heavy side. Still showery but brighter later, perhaps with some sunny intervals developing. Increasingly mild. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Often cloudy with periods of rain or showers, these perhaps prolonged on Monday. Probably driest on Tuesday, ahead of a milder but likely wetter and windier Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.